

The Writers' Forum is proud to present the 2nd annual Northern California Authors Fair

The public is invited to this free event at the
Mt. Shasta Mall in Redding on Saturday,
November 12, 2005, 10 a.m.-4 p.m.

Meet authors. Talk about writing.
Books will be available for sale and author-signings.

Authors Fair Program

All day: Fast, fun and free "Opening Sentence" writing contest!
Four age categories from children to seniors
1st Place winners to receive hand-crafted Italian Leather journals

Speakers at Center Stage

- 10:30 a.m. Bob Rock, author and president of Writers' Forum
"Self-Publishing Your Memoir"
- 11:30 a.m. Lowell Streiker, inspirational humorist, author or editor of 35 books
"The Power of Humor"
- 12:30 p.m. PJ Petersen, author of 23 children's and young adult's books;
winner of the William Allen White Award and the Children's Crown Award
"Writing for Children--It's Not Child's Play"
- 1:30 p.m. Steve Brewer, author of 12 mysteries & newspaper columnist
Mystery Writers of America, National Board Member
"My Two Lives: Author and Columnist"
- 2:30 p.m. Thom Gabrukiewicz, author & Record Searchlight Outdoor editor/writer
California Outdoor Writer of the Year, 2003; Best Outdoor Page, 2003, 2004
"Finding Your Own Voice"
- 3:30 p.m. Lily G. Stephen, author, city of Mount Shasta
"Getting a Story Out of Nowhere"

Last year, over 50 authors participated, covering many genres:
Mystery, Children's, Historical, Biography, Humor, Travel, Poetry, more.
Questions? Call 530-275-2823, 530-241-1045 or visit online at www.writers-forum.net